Morrison Data Services aims to be the employer of choice in the Energy sector. Our continued growth and success, as a part of M Group Services, creates opportunities for fulfilling and rewarding roles, utilising the diverse skills and capabilities of all our people.

Our values underpin our behaviour, and we are committed to investing in our people and acting with integrity in all that we do. We want our people to have a positive impact on our clients' customers and the local communities in which we work.

FOREWORD

I am delighted to share with you the latest Gender Pay Gap Report from Morrison Data Services. This report highlights the success that we have had in ensuring we have a balanced and diverse workforce that is happy, healthy and, most importantly, safe. We are proud that Morrison Data Services encourages flexible working solutions that contribute to our ability to be an employer of choice.

We are also maintaining our focus on ensuring our workforce reflects the customers and communities which we serve and this includes having a workforce that is representative of the communities in which we carry out our work. We are also committed to researching new methods of attracting women into our front line roles, along with having a front line development programme that supports our existing colleagues into leadership roles.

We work closely with the operating businesses across M Group Services to ensure that we are sharing best practice in all aspects of our work and operations, and this extends to our people strategy. The values of M Group Services focus on integrity and investing in our people, and we are committed to providing all our people with equal access to development opportunities, whilst behaving in a respectful manner to all of our people.

We are committed to enabling honest conversations with all our people, regardless of gender or role within the business, allowing us to understand where we can enhance our offering to our people across Morrison Data Services.

I hope that you find this report both informative and insightful.

Understanding the Gender Pay Gap

Gender Pay Definition

The gender pay gap is defined as the difference in the average earnings of men and women over standard period of time, regardless of their role or seniority – across an entire organisation, business sector, industry or the economy as a whole.

It can be driven by the different number of men across all roles. The gender pay gap is different from an equal pay comparison, which would involve direct comparison of two people or groups of people carrying out the same, similar or equivalent work.

How are the median and mean gaps calculated?

Using the calculations set out in the gender pay gap reporting regulations, we have taken pay data from our entire business, of more than 2,347 employees. This data includes many different roles that bring a variety of rates of pay.

How are the pay quartiles calculated?

In the report we also share the percentage of men and women in each pay quartile. Quartiles are calculated by listing the rates of pay for each employee across the business from lowest to highest, then splitting that list into four equal-sized groups and calculating the percentage of males and females in each.

What's included in our calculations?

Calculations of mean and median pay and of quartile pay bands are based in data from Full Year 2021 only, including ordinary pay and bonus pay. Ordinary pay is not limited to basic pay, but includes other types of pay such as pay for leave. It does include pay for overtime, pay relating to redundancy/termination of employment, or the value of benefits which are not in the form of money.

Since 2017, all UK organisations are required to report annually on their gender pay gap.
